THE SEATTLE MUSIC TEACHERS ASSOCIATION PRESENTS

REGINA YEH

IN RECITAL

Saturday, November 6, 2010 at 7:30 pm
Sherman Clay
1624 4th Avenue (Downtown Seattle near Westlake Center)
$20 Adult/$10 Student (18 & younger)
All proceeds benefit the SMTA Simon-Fiset Scholarship

THE SEATTLE MUSIC TEACHERS ASSOCIATION PRESENTS

REGINA YEH

IN RECITAL

Saturday, November 6, 2010 at 7:30 pm
Sherman Clay
1624 4th Avenue (Downtown Seattle near Westlake Center)
$20 Adult/$10 Student (18 & younger)
All proceeds benefit the SMTA Simon-Fiset Scholarship
Taiwanese-born American pianist Regina Yeh has delighted audiences with her dynamic performances throughout the United States and abroad, including France, the UK, Slovak Republic, Korea, and on tour in her native Taiwan. Ms. Yeh has received numerous awards and accolades for her exceptional artistry and compelling performances. Ms. Yeh is also the founder of the East-West Piano Arts Series at the University of Washington, which highlights music of composers of Asian and Asian American descent and at the same time, presents diverse, fusion-style programming. A devoted Artist-Teacher, Dr. Yeh teaches masterclasses at colleges and universities while maintaining a rigorous performing and teaching schedule across the United States and abroad.

Of all Ms. Yeh’s many virtues apparent, including her interesting programming, her easy manner in speaking about the music to her audience, and her obvious commitment to bridging East and West, it was the passionate involvement in her playing that most struck this listener. She tore into Schumann’s Sonata in G minor like a tigress, maintaining intensity throughout.... Ms. Yeh’s fiery musicality is wonderful...... such communicative playing, meltingly beautiful.

- New York Concert Review, Weill Hall, Carnegie Hall 2008

The Seattle Music Teachers Association is proud to present world-renowned concert pianist, Dr. Regina Yeh, in recital.

Taiwanese-born American pianist Regina Yeh has delighted audiences with her dynamic performances throughout the United States and abroad, including France, the UK, Slovak Republic, Korea, and on tour in her native Taiwan. Ms. Yeh has received numerous awards and accolades for her exceptional artistry and compelling performances. Ms. Yeh is also the founder of the East-West Piano Arts Series at the University of Washington, which highlights music of composers of Asian and Asian American descent and at the same time, presents diverse, fusion-style programming. A devoted Artist-Teacher, Dr. Yeh teaches masterclasses at colleges and universities while maintaining a rigorous performing and teaching schedule across the United States and abroad.

Of all Ms. Yeh’s many virtues apparent, including her interesting programming, her easy manner in speaking about the music to her audience, and her obvious commitment to bridging East and West, it was the passionate involvement in her playing that most struck this listener. She tore into Schumann’s Sonata in G minor like a tigress, maintaining intensity throughout.... Ms. Yeh’s fiery musicality is wonderful...... such communicative playing, meltingly beautiful.

- New York Concert Review, Weill Hall, Carnegie Hall 2008